January 2011

Rainbeau Ridge is thrilled to have been named among the “Best of the Decade” by Westchester Magazine for Food & Dining, January 2011

One decade. Ten years of tireless research, experimentation, and reporting. Year after year, we scout out the most superlative offerings in Westchester County for our annual “Best of Westchester” issue. Now, we’ve undertaken the enormous task of reviewing all of our previous editors’ picks, distilling them down to the absolutely essential—the most stupendous, the most stunning, the most delicious, the most thrilling, the most dazzling—to bring you the “Best of the Decade.” Think of it as the Best of the Best of Westchester.

Rainbeau Ridge Farm

Mark and Lisa Schwartz were once just like us, going about their suburban lives. Then, they decided to buy the farm—literally—and we get to experience the benefits of their hard work in the form of Rainbeau Ridge’s award-winning, locally made cheeses. (Our favorite: the ChevreLait goat’s milk cheese.) And, should you want to follow in their footsteps, the farm now hosts classes for kids and adults in cooking, canning, baking, and other seasonal chores.
